

Esteemed Parents:

ccSpark! is an age-appropriate digital learning program that helps your child explore early career development building blocks. For elementary grade students, early career learning is about acquiring essential life skills like understanding his or her unique strengths and interests, develop essential communication skills and recognize the importance of lifelong learning and skills training.

ccSpark! helps your child acquire goal setting, planning skills and improved study habits leading to better grades and greater engagement with their education.

ccSpark! makes early career development fun! In addition to games where students meet interesting characters, occupations and work places, My Profile is a virtual space that allows your child to record reflection and exploration results that he or she may return to and update at any time.

ccSpark! guides students to think about their potential and the possibilities open to them.

Please visit the parent page on ccspark.com to learn more about how you can support your child's early career development learning.
