Assignments, exams, expectations outside of the classroom:

Students should be reading at least 20 minutes each night.

Attendance/Tardy Policy/Make-Up Work:

Daily attendance will be taken, and compulsory attendance will be followed. If a student is not present each class/course, the normal truancy process will be followed (TEC, §25.092). Students must be present for 90% of the required days of learning to be promoted to the next grade level or receive credit towards graduation, if in high school.

Doors open at 7:05.

1st bell rings at 7:25

Tardy bell rings at 7:35

All students shall be allowed to makeup work when they are absent from class. Students shall have a time equal to days absent from class plus one day to complete all missed assignments. Under extenuating circumstances such as long-term illness or family emergencies, teachers will work with the student to determine the due dates for make-up work missed. Teachers may reduce the length or number of assignments if the appropriate TEKS are covered.

Students returning to class following an absence are responsible for discussing with the teacher what is to be completed and date for such completion, along with securing necessary materials and notes. Make-up work, including tests, at teacher discretion may be an alternate version of the original work (including online) if it is at the same level of cognition and covers the identical learning target(s). Make-up tests should be administered before or after school to prevent a student from missing additional class time. At a teacher's discretion, tests may be made up during the school day. Work, including tests, assigned prior to an absence may be due on the first return day.

Classroom Expectations:

- being engaged during meetings
- coming prepared each day
- pay attention, participate, and ask questions
- show respect towards yourself, your peers, and your teacher
- complete daily assignments/activities

Academic Integrity:

Academic integrity values the work of individuals regardless if it is another student's work, a researcher, or author. The pursuit of learning requires each student to be responsible for his or her academic work. Academic dishonesty is not tolerated in our schools. Academic dishonesty includes cheating, copying the work of another student, plagiarism, and unauthorized communication between students during an examination. The determination that a student has engaged in academic dishonesty shall be based on the judgment of the classroom teacher or other supervising professional employee and considers written materials, observation, or information from students. Students found to have engaged in academic dishonesty shall be subject to disciplinary and/or academic penalties. The teacher and campus administrator shall jointly determine such action.
