Course Description:

Principles of Law, Public Safety, Corrections, & Security is a course that introduces students to professions in law enforcement, security, corrections, fire and emergency medical/management services. Students will examine roles and responsibilities of public safety professions to get an overview to determine if they may be interested in pursuing a career. This course will provide students with the knowledge of professional standards and employers' expectations by discussing ethics and morals required for some positions. Students will learn personal and workplace safety, emergency procedures/protocols, and effective communication skills. Students will also learn the appropriate physical and academic skills required for these professions and put into place strategies for mastering any/all skills during our hands-on activities.

Course Goals:

Students who complete this course successfully will be able to:

Demonstrate professional standards/employability skills as required by their career path. The student will demonstrate verbal, nonverbal, and written communication skills in creating, expressing, and interpreting information and ideas, including technical terminology and information. The student will apply concepts of critical thinking and problem-solving during emergency situations. For example, we will learn how to properly administer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (C.P.R.) and knowledge of basic first aid. During the course we will discuss a wide variety of public safety careers, including testing/requirements and how to apply for the position.

Student Evaluation:

The grading system for this course is as follows:

- Grade averaged 60% Major 40% Minor
- Major grades – tests (including District Common Assessments, six weeks assessments, projects, final essays, research papers, presentations); minimum three per six weeks
- Minor grades – quizzes, daily assignments, journals; minimum four per six weeks
- Semester exams will count 1/7 of the semester grade

- A letter system (S, N, U) is used to report a student’s conduct based on proper/responsive conduct and citizenship
- Per Board Policy EIA (LOCAL), “The District shall permit a student who meets the criteria detailed in the grading guidelines a reasonable opportunity to redo an assignment or retake a test for which the student received a failing grade. This policy applies only to initial identified major grades and does not apply to daily assignments, quizzes, six-week test, and semester final examinations. Upon reteach and retest, the new test, project, etc. recorded will be a high score of 70%.
- Official grades will be in Skyward only and can be accessed by student and parent through Family Access.

Assignments, exams, expectations outside of the classroom:

Most assignments, exams, and classwork should be completed by the end class. However, your student may have some assignments outside of the classroom that includes projects and homework if assigned.

Attendance/Tardy Policy/Make-Up Work:

Please refer to the Student/Parent Handbook for school policy regarding attendance, tardiness, and makeup work. For any class missed, it is the student’s responsibility to obtain the makeup assignment from the instructor or on Canvas.

Tardy Policy: Students are expected to be on time to class daily. Students will be marked as tardy if they are not in their assigned seat when the bell rings. Students more than 10 minutes late to class will be marked absent per EMSISD policy.

Make-Up Work: I will strictly follow the EMSISD grading policy for make-up work when a student is absent (excused). Students will have time equal to days absent from class plus one day to complete all missed assignments.

Late Policy: I will strictly follow the EMSISD grading policy for late work. If work is turned in 1 school day late, the maximum score for this assignment is 85%. If work is turned in 2 school days late, the maximum score for this assignment is 70%. If work is turned in 3 school days late, the maximum score for this assignment is 60%. No late work will be accepted after 3 school business days, and a zero will be recorded in my grade book.

Classroom Expectations:

The 5 Ps: Be prompt, prepared, productive, polite, and positive. Consequences for not following expectations vary by situation, but I will generally have a discussion with the student, then contact parents via email or phone call. If the issue is not resolved, then additional actions may be taken such as in-school suspension, referrals, and principal involvement.

Phone policy: No phone usage is allowed unless authorized. We will be using phones for legal research and in-class activities, but I expect no social media or video/audio recording in my class. If your student uses their phone inappropriately during class, I will ask them to put their phone in the “phone jail” for the remaining duration of the class. If your student refuses or has an attitude, I will confiscate their phone for the remainder of the day or send their phone and/or student to the office.

Academic Integrity:

Academic integrity values the work of individuals regardless if it is another student's work, a researcher, or author. The pursuit of learning requires each student to be responsible for his or her academic work. Academic dishonesty is not tolerated in our schools. Academic dishonesty includes cheating, copying the work of another student, plagiarism, and unauthorized communication between students during an examination. The determination that a student has engaged in academic dishonesty shall be based on the judgment of the classroom teacher or other supervising professional employee and considers written materials, observation, or information from students. Students found to have engaged in academic dishonesty shall be subject to disciplinary and/or academic penalties. The teacher and campus administrator shall jointly determine such action.
