

COMMUNICATION:

WORKPLACE
RECORDINGS

In the interest of ensuring compliance with federal confidentiality provisions and state parental right provisions, along with encouraging open communication within an atmosphere of trust, employees are required to provide notice that he or she is making an audio recording of any conversation or proceeding at the workplace.